Dear Ms. Warda:

I am very happy to see that a company has come forward with a product to assist students with vocabulary and spelling. The new software from eSpindle Learning allows a student to practice their spelling and build vocabulary at the same time.

Language development, whether for second language learners or anyone else is important for success with today's rigorous educational standards. E-spindle learning has provided students with a means to practice at home many of the skills they need to use at school. Spelling lists can be customized for each individual student. Vocabulary from literature, or the sciences can be practiced at home in an entertaining, yet challenging format.

I urge everyone to check out this product as an alternative to tutors or hours of studying.

Sincerely,

Donald F. Armstrong, Ed.D.
Superintendent
